More than just a Realtor, Kelly Waltemath-Wall immerses herself in the entire process of real estate, from development and construction to sales and purchasing. The daughter of developer David L. Waltemath, she graduated LSU in 2014 and immediately got her real estate license. "Real estate is not a job to me," she says. "It's my passion. It's in my DNA. Real estate is who I am and who I want to become."

Her inherent drive to achieve, along with her product knowledge and experience, has made her a top agent and a Keller Williams Regional Top Ten Producer among 4,400 Realtors. Additionally, Waltemath-Wall was ranked the number one Regional Producer in January 2022 and featured as Biz Magazine's Women to Watch in 2021. As the leader of The Kelly Waltemath Group, she is licensed with Keller Williams Realty Services in Mandeville and also serves as a Custom Home and Builder Specialist in various communities within the operations of the Waltemath family developments as well as with third party communities.

As passionate about real estate as Waltemath-Wall may be, it is her clients that most drive her success. "At the end of the day, seeing people smile, laugh, and create memories because I helped them with one of the biggest decisions in their lives is the most rewarding feeling to me," she says.

Representing all areas of residential real estate, Waltemath-Wall's primary focus is on resale listings, builder/community representation, and new construction sales. "My family background has greatly influenced my rapidly growing business today," she notes. "I specialize in helping sellers sell their homes and helping buyers build their homes. This often involves picking a home site, designing a floor plan, and choosing a builder. It's so much fun taking my clients from their vision on paper to the reality of seeing their finished home!"

Kelly recently married Chris Wall and has just moved into her own new custom home.
